WC Magnet Ática single-lever mixer by Ramon Soler®. This is a shower designed to replace the bidet, installed on the wall beside the toilet, on either the right or the left

Ramon Soler® exclusively offers innovative toilet showers, for which it has created and patented a double closing system.

When we turn on the water through the single-lever mixer, we must press the button on the handset to make water come out of it, and when we stop pressing, the water flow closes. For this reason, it is very common to forget to close the single-lever mixer. With standard WC handsets, there is a serious danger of leaks and flooding, since the water pressure forces the hose and the handset for hours or even days. Moreover, when the single-lever mixer is left open, the hot and cold water paths are connected, so the hot water is constantly cooled by contact with the cold water.

RAMON SOLER SOLUTION: DOUBLE SAFETY VALVE PREVENTS RISK OF FLOODING

The great danger of flooding and the connection between the two water supplies is solved by the recent worldwide patent from Ramon Soler®, a practical and intelligent technological innovation in which, when the handset is placed in its holder, the double safety valve is activated and completely shuts off the water flow. Through a magnet and the force of the water pressure itself, the mechanism that hermetically seals the water flow is triggered. Static pressure on the hose ceases to be exerted, thus avoiding the possibility of water leaks and therefore of flooding.

WC Magnet double safety valve system by Ramon Soler®

The toilet shower is equipped with WC Magnet, which provides double protection against the danger of flooding, and a single-lever mixer for two water supplies. The brand offers the WC shower with two different shower outlets and the handle for the single-lever mixer available in the Drako and Ática models of the Ramon Soler® collections
