Ramon Soler® taps specially designed for HOTELS have a design-led look and bring together a set of technical features that make the whole set an ideal piece for hotel-sector projects. A clear example is their special finishes made with coatings such as electrostatic on galvanised metal for matt black and PVD coating for brushed nickel, brushed gold, copper and brushed copper; techniques typical of the best engineering, with adhesion, strength and protection proof against wear, abrasion and corrosion. They are also carefully crafted with a large number of advantages that will benefit both the guest and the owner of the HOTEL. Ramon Soler® also offers a service of personalised water and energy saving studies for hotels, as well as the possibility of customising the tap.
