Because of the pandemic taking place worldwide, Ramon Soler® is contributing its technologies and products to make day-to-day life with Covid-19 easier, by giving free webinars during the month of May. Ramon Soler®, a manufacturer of taps and hydrotherapy systems, celebrates 130 years of history this year. In recent years it has worked constantly to provide solutions to users' day-to-day demands and not to be left behind in the face of adversity. For this reason, it decides once again to do its bit and, action after action, surprises us with the collaborative, empathetic and caring values that characterise the brand.

On this occasion, it is holding live webinars to which it invites customers, suppliers, bathroom-sector professionals, architects and interior designers to take part. The aim is to reinforce their learning and provide hygiene and safety tips against Covid-19 that can guide them and keep them up to date with the new products and solutions on offer owing to current circumstances. The webinars will be led by Manel Lozano, Area Manager at Ramon Soler®, and by other colleagues from the sector and guest architects. They will take place on the following days and at the following times:

19 May 12:30 (Madrid time) – New products 2020.

We are aware that Covid-19 can remain for several hours or days in aerosols and on some surfaces, according to a new study by the National Institutes of Health, the CDC, UCLA and Princeton University (USA) published in «The New England Journal of Medicine». The scientists found that the coronavirus was detectable in aerosols for up to three hours, up to four hours on copper, up to 24 hours on cardboard and up to two or three days on plastic and stainless steel. Given the studies mentioned above, taps are a product liable to transmit the virus through contact, and for this Ramon Soler® has multiple solutions that add that extra hygiene with no contact with the product, never forgetting the need for it to be a sustainable product with an innovative design. Such is the case of Ramon Soler®'s electronic and timed taps. This type of tap allows us to operate the tap without any contact at all; the sensor is what triggers the water to open. The webinar on bathroom trends will cover its latest collections and new products, such as New Fly, Urban Chic, recently awarded the IF DESIGN AWARD 2020, and its new finishes featuring the highest technology, as well as its latest patents such as the sacrificial anode.

It is very easy to join the webinars via the ZOOM platform, without needing to download any application beforehand. All professionals in the sector who are interested in sharing in this training will find more up-to-date information and details of the content of each webinar on Ramon Soler®'s social media.
