ramonsoler awarded the EcoVadis Gold Medal 2025

ramonsoler® taps have been recognised with the 2025 EcoVadis gold medal, reaching the 96th percentile in sustainability.

The firm ramonsoler® has been recognised with the Gold Medal in the 2025 EcoVadis assessment, reaching the 96th percentile, a significant improvement on the 91% obtained in 2024. Since its beginnings, ramonsoler® has maintained a firm commitment to excellence, not only in the design and manufacture of its products, but also in its responsibility towards the environment, society and future generations. It now obtains the EcoVadis gold medal certification, this year 2025, which reflects the result of a strategy of continuous improvement in the company's social and environmental footprint, consolidating its leadership in sustainability.

EcoVadis, a worldwide reference body in business sustainability assessment, is the first collaborative sustainability rating platform for global supply chains. This platform, shared between buyer and supplier, improves the reliability of information and reduces costs by streamlining purchasing processes. EcoVadis certification is awarded to companies that work together to continuously improve the environment by following sustainable ethics, reflected in their social and environmental footprint. It also provides a Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) rating service through a global cloud-based software-as-a-service platform. Its assessment covers a broad spectrum of non-financial management systems that include environmental impacts, labour and human rights practices, business ethics and sustainable procurement. In each of these areas, ramonsoler has shown outstanding progress in transparency, responsibility and sustainability, which has allowed it to climb the rankings to reach the 96th percentile of its sector.

In addition, this new milestone places ramonsoler® in the Top 5% of companies with the best performance in social responsibility worldwide, according to the demanding assessment carried out by EcoVadis. This rating not only underlines its firm commitment to sustainability, but also positions it as a leader within its industry, reflecting the company's dedication to implementing and maintaining practices that benefit both the environment and society. The firm incorporates the latest technologies and systems to facilitate sustainable business, together with greater convenience for the user and peace of mind regarding the improvement of the environment. Its commitment includes the development of more efficient taps that reduce water consumption thanks to eco-redesign processes. This 2025 Gold Medal adds to the company's previous achievements in the EcoVadis assessment: the Silver Medal in 2024 and the Bronze Medal in 2020, consolidating an exemplary and sustained progression in corporate social responsibility and sustainability. ramonsoler® looks to the future to leave a better world for current and coming generations, helping to make everyone's life easier in the best possible way and with exceptional quality. This recognition from EcoVadis is a significant milestone for the company, reaffirming its position as a leader committed to creating a more sustainable and responsible future for all.
