

PRODUCT · 2021

RIR, now in on-trend finishes

A round wall-mounted shower head with a rain effect, available in the latest trending finishes of matt black, brushed nickel, brushed gold and chrome.

Perfect for giving us great physical and mental wellbeing, the Ramon Soler® RIR shower head offers us a way to relax and to combat daily stress and fatigue in the best possible way.

RIR shower head in brushed gold finish by Ramon Soler®

NEW TRENDING FINISHES

The RIR shower head debuts new finishes, inspired by the latest global trends in top-quality design that give bathrooms the essence of the most refined luxury: a brushed gold finish, of pure sophistication, which creates a luminous, elegant and stylish whole. Brushed nickel, defined by its timeless beauty and handcrafted look. Lastly, the brand has not neglected the colour of immaculate elegance: matt black.

RIR is also offered in the unrivalled chrome, with its luminosity and its Diamond Finish coating, which gives it maximum resistance and an extra-gloss finish, thanks to a carefully studied chrome-plating process and rigorous quality controls. This range of brushed gold and nickel finishes is made possible by the revolutionary PVD (physical vapour deposition) technique, which allows different colourings to be created with a metal coating, providing strength and durability. Quality is an essential requirement for Ramon Soler®.

The Matt Black finish is achieved with a sophisticated electrostatic bath on galvanised metal, which gives it durability in the salt spray test 10 times greater than chrome.

DESIGN

Its design opts for a round shape, which lets the water fall in a relaxing, centred way, contributing to personal wellbeing and allowing accumulated tension to be released. RIR is synonymous with relaxation, a hydrotherapy session every day in our own bathroom. It helps us create a spa area at home, a true luxury within our reach.

COMBINATION

A model of style and elegance, which will add a touch of character and personality to the setting, above all because it can be combined with any shower tap model - single-lever, two-handle or thermostatic - to the user's taste, creating unrivalled sets. Its rounded shapes give it a natural look, a good option for any type of project, whether contract or residential.

RIR shower head in brushed nickel finish by Ramon Soler®

The bathroom has become a wellness space, where every detail counts to guarantee the user's maximum wellbeing. With the new Ramon Soler® shower heads, the shower area can be a space in which to appreciate good design and enjoy the benefits of hydrotherapy: the rain-effect water outlet relaxes, comforts and revitalises the body.

RIR shower head in chrome finish, with shower set by Ramon Soler®

More information: rsramonsoler.com/en-INT/press-releases/rir-de-ramon-soler-ahora-en-los