RS Smart

RS Smart is a smart shower that offers a fully personalised experience controlled by the user. This concealed-body thermostatic mixer features dual-function buttons for choosing the water outlet and for temperature control.

RS Smart collection in 2 Ways by Ramon Soler®, chrome, matt black, brushed nickel and brushed gold finishes.

Ramon Soler®, a leading brand in high-quality taps since 1890, presents its latest innovation in shower technology: RS Smart. It is a concealed thermostatic mixer that will improve the shower experience by allowing users to adjust the temperature and water flow to their preferences.

RS Smart dual-function button by Ramon Soler®.

The piece consists of a smart control made up of dual-function buttons that allow the water outlet to be adjusted (push button) and the flow rate to be regulated (rotary button). It also has a handwheel for setting the temperature and, in addition, several water outlets can be selected simultaneously thanks to the smart 2- and 3-way options. This latest-generation sensor system allows precise control of the water, reducing water and energy consumption.

The RS Smart concealed body is easy to install thanks to a watertight box with a minimum depth of 72 mm, and it can be fitted in any type of wall, for example plasterboard or standard. It is also easy to maintain, as the cartridge or push buttons can be replaced without having to uninstall the tap.

RS Smart collection in 3 Ways in chrome finish by Ramon Soler®.

This product will be available in a variety of styles that suit any bathroom. It comes in four elegant finishes: chrome, matt black, brushed nickel and brushed gold, of high durability and resistance. And its minimalist design allows this piece to be combined with the entire range of Ramon Soler® products, especially the hydrotherapy ones with large shower heads.

RS Smart stands out for its ease of use thanks to its intuitive interface. It is an innovation that combines smart technology with an elegant, sustainable design to offer a unique bathroom experience, and which also represents an exceptional step forward for the brand.
